

Textile Pigment Powders for Printing on Various Substrates

Quality Production. Innovative Creativity. Flexible Control.

- Quality Production — Automate production and delivery of goods with streamlined efficiency and operation.
- Innovative Creativity — Design and print high-quality fabrics and materials just using your inkjet printer. Even high fashion has embraced this unique innovation!
- Flexible Control — Print on various products and substrates with ease.

The T-Series textile pigment powders are for users looking to develop, produce and market applications based on the properties and regulatory compliance requirements associated with textile and various material substrates. Delivered in base components, the pigments are available in a large variety of colors and are ideal for inks (dot-on-demand, offset, and flexo), as well as paints, pastes, dispersions, gels, and powder compositions.

